HOT HUB

King's Cross is on the right track

King's Cross is gearing up to be London's fastest-growing urban hub. The railway station's redevelopment is to be joined by a wealth of new structures, including Aarti, Ollila & Ristola's Camley Street Natural Park floating viewpoint; a canopy for Cubitt Square by Niall McLaughlin; and the Gridiron office building by David Chipperfield. Bruno Loubet's Grain Store recently opened next to the Central Saint Martins university, while more eateries, such as The Kiosk, designed by Feix & Merlin, are in the works. www.kingscross.co.uk
